NHS Leadership Academy Award in Healthcare Leadership

Programme Overview

The Mary Seacole Local Programme is a six-month leadership development programme designed by the NHS Leadership Academy in partnership with global experts the Hay Group, to develop knowledge and skills in leadership and management. The concept of learning how to be a leader when you're in the thick of your day to day responsibilities can seem rather abstract, but the Mary Seacole Local Programme is grounded in reality and results in real workplace application.

It aims to provide the balance between learning leadership theory and putting it into practice. Designed for those looking to move into their first formal leadership role, or those new to first time leadership, it empowers people to turn their individual success into consistent team success and to champion compassionate patient care.

Who is the Mary Seacole Local Programme for?

The Mary Seacole Local Programme is for first time leaders in Health and Social Care, or those aspiring to their first formal leadership role. It's for you if you're:

- Wanting to improve Health and Social Care outcomes for the people of Nottinghamshire through great leadership
- Looking to move into your first leadership role
- In a 'formal' position of leadership with responsibilities for people and services

What you'll experience

The programme is six months long with 100 hours of online study, 3 face-to-face behavioural workshops delivered locally by highly experienced and skilled leadership facilitators, drawn from across the Nottinghamshire system. Learning is accessed through:

- The Academy's virtual campus, which includes programme films, interactive content, discussion forums and online resources
- Three one day face to face skills workshops delivered in the County

- The programme has 12 units, each taking five-ten hours of online study time
